

HISTORIC PRESERVATION

Mr. Johnson served for three years on the D.C. Historic Preservation Review Board. He has successfully represented several clients in their pursuit of historic approvals including:

- 1601 R Street, NW, Washington, DC: clients needed approval for replacement of building's windows which were historically unique in design and within a historic area.
- 1818 Newton Street, NW, Washington, DC: Secured historic preservation approvals for design and reconstruction work on this 150+ yr. old mansion, Stoddard Baptist Nursing Home.
- St. Paul's Parish, Washington, DC: Received historic approval of expansion of the oldest church in Washington, DC.
